

bracelets and hair ornaments.

(Underwood & Underwood)

ees of Fashion d Winter.

Mrs. Vernon Castle wearing the "Castle Preparedness Suit," which she designed.

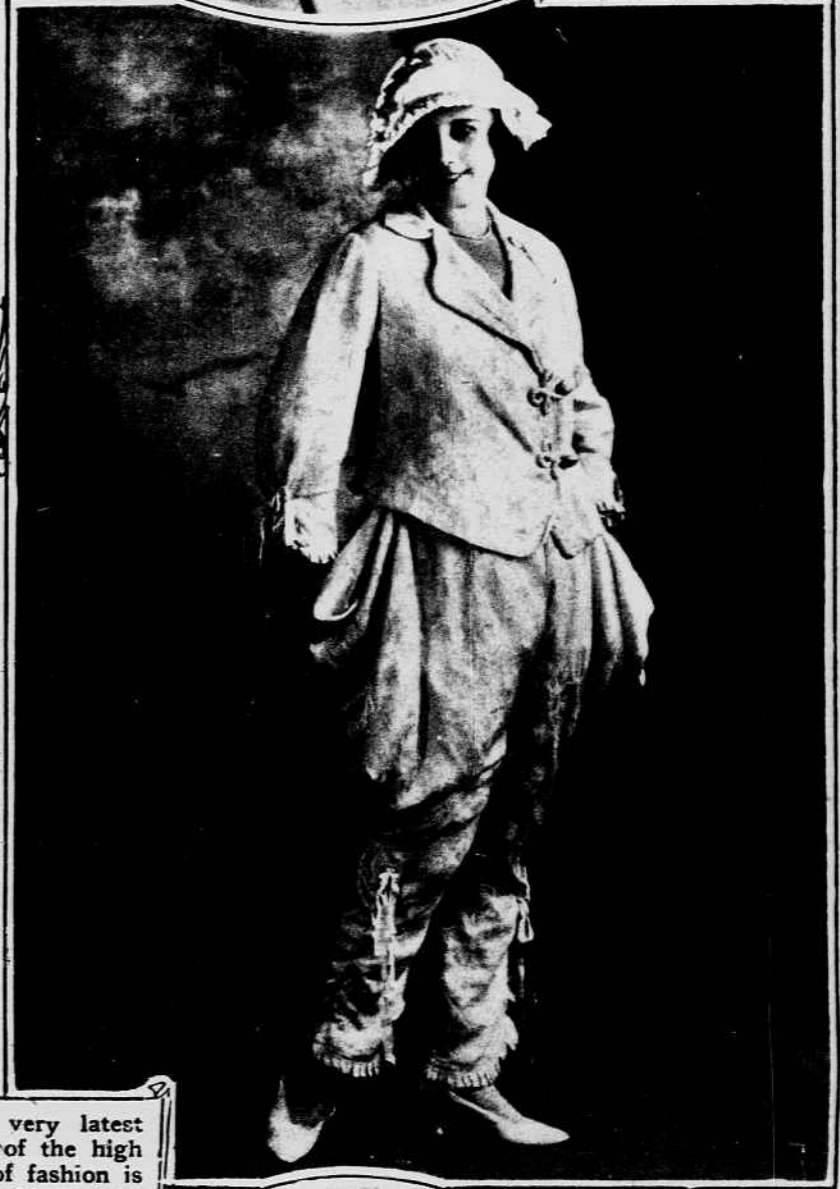

Pretty neglige of pale pink net over accordion-pleated crepe de chine slip, trimmed with band of cream lace insertion.

(Underwood & Underwood copyright, 1916.)

A dainty turban, that is simplicity itself, is of a very soft shade of taupe velvet, and is trimmed with a large embroidered rose.

Underwood & Underwood copyright.

(Underwood & Underwood copyright, 1916.)

The very latest decree of the high court of fashion is this fetching night attire in the way of pale pink brocaded pajamas.

This attractive colarette and muff are of Hudson seal, trimmed with ermine.

(Underwood & Underwood copyright, 1916.)

Dainty dancing frock for the debutante. The skirt consists of tiny ruffles of sage green chiffon edged with velvet ribbon and a puffed side drape of the same shade of green tulle.

This costume is of dark green satin trimmed with gray rabbit.

(Underwood & Underwood copyright, 1916.)